The Print Club of Cleveland

Founded in 1919 by Ralph Thrall King, the Print Club of Cleveland is the oldest print club in the United States. Over the past 98 years, there has been unwavering dedication to the founder's twin purposes of enhancing the Cleveland Museum of Art's print collection by gifts, and of stimulating general interest in print collecting. The commitment and support of club members continues unabated; in fact, one-third of the collection of more than 20,000 prints came as gifts to the museum from the club or its members. The Print Club of Cleveland also reaches out to the community by sponsoring lectures and hosting the annual Fine Print Fair. The group continues to educate the public about printmaking and stimulate interest in the activity of print collecting.
